TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

PUNJAB LIGHT HORSE

FOR

SEASON 1905-1906.

PUNJAB GOVERNMENT PRESS, LAHORE.

PROPOSED PUNJAB LIGHT HORSE.

A meeting of gentlemen interested in the formation of a Cavalry Volunteer Corps in the Punjab was held on Tuesday at the residence of Mr. Arthur Grey for the purpose of considering certain suggestions with regard to the proposed establishment. Mr. Grey explained to the meeting that, while he had received warm congratulations from various influential quarters, a good deal of opposition had been aroused locally. This he attributed to the fear entertained by members of the existing volunteer regiments that the sanctioning of the proposed scheme would lead to their losing some of their best men. This feeling he had done his best to allay, and he was happy to be able to lay before the meeting a modification of the scheme which he hoped would meet with their approval. This was, in effect, that, in place of the Cavalry Regiment asked for in his original application, a single troop or company should be formed in connection with the existing regiment, and of course under the command of its present Commandant, Colonel Masson. This, he believed, would remove the difficulty referred to, and enable the corps to be formed, and to work most amicably with the 1st Punjab Volunteer Rifles, of whose administrative battalion they would form a part. There remained the question of whether the proposed establishment should take the form of mounted infantry or of cavalry, and this matter he left to the meeting. After a good deal of discussion it was agreed unanimously that Mr. Grey's proposition should be adopted, on the condition, that the corps should be sanctioned as cavalry, none of those interested in the scheme being willing to join a company of mounted infantry. We understand that Mr. Grey is to address the Commandant of the 1st Punjab Volunteer Rifles with a view to carry these proposals into effect. The list of gentlemen who have promised to join now exceeds 60, one-half of whom are not at present Volunteers at all.—Civil and Military Gazette, December 2nd, 1892.

PUNJAB LIGHT HORSE.

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT.

Season, 1905-06.

To

COL. THE HON'BLE SIR CHARLES MONTGOMERY
RIVAZ, K.C.S.I., Honorary Colonel, Punjab Light Horse.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit the twelfth Annual Report of the Punjab Light Horse for the year ending 31st March 1906. As this is probably the last report which I shall have the honour to submit to you, the occasion may not be an unsuitable one for a slight review of the position of the corps and its progress during the 13 years that I have commanded it.

The subjoined table shows the actual progress during those years in figures :—

Year.				Proficients.	Marksmen.	Extra efficient not marksmen.	Efficients.	Total efficients.	Enrolled strength.
1893-94	None.	None.	50	1	51	1
1894-95	7	3	84	14	101	157
1895-96	14	9	122	4	135	154
1896-97	19	7	132	13	152	168
1897-98	25	29	127	10	166	187
1898-99	18	30	138	11	179	199
1899-1900	17	8	134	7	149	176
1900-01	22	60	8	8	150	168
1901-02	37	72	95	4	171	181
1902-03	37	104	49	49	202	216
1903-04	38	150	20	40	201	224
1904-05	38	87	63	55	205	211
1905-06	33	108	66	70	244	251

The progress of the corps, however, may be better appreciated by its improvement in discipline and efficiency than by any mere numerical calculation.

Beginning with a membership of about 50 wholly untrained men and a debt of some 7,000 rupees, necessarily incurred for their equipment (I may mention that I received 1,500 rupees from Government during two years, in the latter part of which I had to equip 150 men), we have now 250 in our ranks including the reserve, and balances to the credit of our various accounts amounting to over 10,000 rupees. You, Sir, who have watched the corps with so much interest, will have been able to judge from the various reports submitted by Inspecting Officers, of our general efficiency. For myself, I can only say that my endeavour has been to confine the training of the men to thoroughly practical exercises, and that I trust that I have been in some measure successful in the result.

For nearly eight years of the period under review I had no professional assistance beyond that of Sergeant Instructors. The staff duties of the Regiment, Adjutant, Paymaster and Quarter-Master were carried out entirely by Volunteer Officers. We were, it is true, part of an Administrative Battalion, but, being of a different branch in the service from the battalion to which we were attached we could not expect any assistance in our drill or instruction from the Adjutant of that battalion.

I look back upon this period with some natural pride, not in my own work but in that of the officers, who so ably supported me, and the men, who under somewhat difficult conditions, displayed so much loyalty and devotion to the corps.

Our financial difficulties were no small ones, but we gradually overcame them without assistance, and when at last in 1901 a half-time Adjutant was appointed to the Regiment, we were out of money difficulties and sufficiently well organised as a separate unit to be able to take full advantage of his services.

During the period of which I am speaking the call for Volunteers for South Africa was warmly responded to in the Regiment, of whom nearly one-third volunteered at the outset. In looking over the comparative statement above, it will be noticed that there is only one break in the continuous increase in numbers corresponding with the depletion of the Regiment by 21 men who actually went to the front. Upon those who served under Colonel Lumsden I received from that officer the warmest possible encomiums; several obtained commissions, and one, Captain Clifford, a D. S. O., I am glad to say that every single one of them who returned to this country rejoined the Regiment, and that all those still in the Punjab are to be found at the present moment in our ranks,

In 1902 I had an excellent opportunity of comparing my own men with those of other Mounted Volunteer Corps. At the Delhi Darbar I was in command of a composite regiment in which nearly every Mounted Volunteer Corps in India was represented. I will only say of my own men that—while the fact of their having won at the Assault-at-arms, the Cup given for best gallop-past, showed them not behind the others in their drill—the cheerfulness with which they undertook fatigue duties in camp (which owing to their being a local corps devolved far more heavily upon them than upon any other regiment), was recognised to the full by all those present in the camp.

I have spoken of the increase in numbers and, as I believe, in general efficiency. I may add that in those Mounted sports which bring out so many of the necessary qualities of a cavalry soldier, they have not been behind others. Twice during the last few years has an officer of the regiment won the competition for Tent-pegging, open to all officers of the district, in the annual district Assault-at-arms. This year the corps has for the second time running won the Regimental Trophy of the Volunteer Cavalry Tent-pegging Tournament; while one of our best men, Troop Sergeant-Major Wilson, has not only won the Newcomen Trophy for the best man-at-arms among Mounted Volunteers in India, but has won it with a record score. It is perhaps worth noting that of the 16 men who were placed in that competition, no less than 8, or one-half, belonged to my regiment.

I trust I may not be considered egotistical in saying so much about the progress of the regiment. It has been my chief interest during the past 13 years and I may perhaps be pardoned if, before my handing over my work to another, I desire to pay a fitting tribute to those I am leaving behind me. While leaving Inspecting Officers to judge of the efficiency of the Regiment in the field, I am entitled at least to place on record what I alone can speak to my belief, that there is not to be found in India a body of Volunteers more loyal to their regiment and their officers, or more cheerful in their submission to orders.

To turn to the actual work of the current year, I desire to call attention to the large proportion of efficient shown in my first table. Only 7 men out of a total of 251 failed to undergo the necessary training, and for each of these a full and sufficient reason has been submitted to head-quarters. This degree of efficiency is I think the more creditable, as many of the men are separated by considerable distances from the head-quarters of their troops, and have to make a certain amount of sacrifice to enable them to fulfil the necessary conditions. The addition of a reserve troop has assisted me materially in keeping together the men, who are for the moment unable to present themselves at the regular drill of their troop, owing to absence in distant stations, but who can manage to perform the lighter tests required in the case of reservists. These men have all been members of the corps and almost invariably ask to be placed in the active list the moment they are in a position to do so. During the year, 53 new members were enrolled, of whom only 3 (who joined late in the season) failed to qualify in their course.

Drill and Instruction.—During the year under report Captain A. Y. Cheyne has joined the regiment as Adjutant and has already been able to make his mark in the Regiment. I consider a great deal of the improved efficiency during the year due to his untiring energy and interest in the work. The number of efficient in the several troops for the season is shown in the following table :—

Troop.	Marksmen.	Extra efficient.	Efficient.	Total	REMARKS.
Staff	3	1	...	4	3 Proficients,
" A "	34	24	5	63	12 "
" B "	33	13	...	46	7 "
" C "	38	27	...	65	7 "
Reserve	...	1	65	66	2 "
Supernumerary	2 "
Total ...	108	66	70	244	33 Proficients.

As I said above, the instruction during the year has been almost entirely confined to the practical work of reconnoitring and outpost duties ; sufficient drill only being insisted upon to enable the regiment to be readily handled on parade. The result of this instruction was I think fairly satisfactory, and I believe both officers and men have a pretty useful idea of the objects and scope of their training.

Musketry.—I think I can fairly claim an improvement in this very necessary branch of training. The percentage of marksmen in the regiment has risen from 57 to 68 per cent. "B" and "C" Troops are entirely composed of marksmen and first class shots. "A" troop alone shows 3 per cent. of second class shots. There are no third class in the corps. The regiment during the year won the Regimental Trophy, shot for with the Dehra Dun Mounted Rifles. The results of the rifle meeting are shown in the Appendix, and compare very favourably with previous years. The experiment tried, not without some misgiving, of having a regimental rifle meeting of our own, separate from the 1st Punjab Volunteer Rifles has proved even more successful than was anticipated. The principal advantage has been the encouragement given to the moderate shots, who in former years were rarely successful in taking prizes, but who have come forward this year in large numbers to compete with a result not without its effect upon the general shooting of the regiment. The Inter-Troop Challenge Cup was won by "B" Troop. During the year a miniature range has been constructed on the parade ground at Lahore which proves of great service, especially during camp. I have sanctioned the construction of similar ranges for Rawalpindi and Ambala. The actual percentages of the different troops are shown in the accompanying table.

The percentages of the several troops are as follows :—

Troop.	Marksmen.	1st class shots.	2nd class shots.	3rd class shots.	REMARKS.
"A"	58 %	39 %	3 %	Nil
"B"	72 %	28 %	Nil	Nil
"C"	59 %	41 %	Nil	Nil

Best marksman in the Corps, T.S.M. J. N. Davison, "A" Troop, score 229.

Establishment.—The earthquake at Palampur and the consequent break up of several of the Tea Companies has practically disbanded "D" Troop. The few members left have temporarily been attached to "A" Troop or have joined the reserve. I am not, however, without hope of re-establishing this troop when matters in the Kangra Valley become more settled. To set against this, several of the other out-station detachments are showing renewed life. The numbers at Peshawar have increased to such an extent that I have been obliged to apply for permission to form them into a separate section, and I hope shortly to make a similar application for Multan, where the appointment of Mr. Langley, the Deputy Commissioner, to a commission in the corps has had an excellent effect on the members in the station. Delhi has done little work during the last two years, but Captain Cheyne and myself are making special efforts to get the men together again and to place this detachment of "B" Troop on a more satisfactory footing.

Officers.—I have already alluded to the appointment of a new Adjutant. The roll of officers has been in addition increased by the appointment of and Lieutenant Langley, Deputy Commissioner of Multan, and Lieutenant Goyder to "A" Troop, in which the latter has been for many years a Trooper. Captain Mellor has resigned the Paymastership, and Captain Barnard has been appointed in his place. The officers have displayed considerable energy during the year under report as is shown by the fact that, with the exception of the Veterinary and Medical Officers, both of whom were on leave in England, and one officer who was detained at the last minute by special duty, every single officer attended the camp of exercise. They have all worked really well, and I am glad of the opportunity of thanking them as a body for their loyal support throughout the year. I have applied to the Government of India for the appointment of a full time Adjutant to the Regiment,—an application which I understand you, Sir, have been pleased to support. I pointed out on the last occasion on which I had the honour to address you that it would be impossible for me to undertake the duties connected with my appointment for another year without this very necessary assistance, and I see no reason why my successor should not feel the same. The very large number of outstation detachments in the Regiment makes it practically impossible for any Volunteer Commanding Officer to do his duties properly without the active assistance of an Adjutant during the entire year, and I may point out that the absence of the Adjutant during the early months of the financial year, when the whole of the accounts are under criticism by the Pay Department, makes it exceptionally difficult to satisfactorily complete the returns.

Camp of Exercise.—The members attending this year were slightly less than anticipated owing to the various causes which prevented men from attending at the last moment. Those who did attend however worked hard and were put through a fairly practical week's work. An account of the camp is given in the Appendix. The new camping ground which has been put in excellent order by the Quarter-Master, Lieutenant Coates, is a great boon to the Regiment, and the precautions taken against a repetition of previous disasters due to the flooding of the camp in wet weather enabled us to keep fairly dry during the two or three days of heavy rain.

Escorts.—The Regiment formed part of the escort to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales on his visit to Lahore. All three troops were represented, men and horses being conveyed to Lahore and maintained under Regimental arrangements. The escort was under the command of Major Powell, who received the personal congratulations of His Royal Highness on the smartness of the turn out.

Finance.—The financial position of the Corps is thoroughly sound. Not only does the Capitation account show a credit balance for the year, but all the other accounts of the Regiment are equally in credit. The Capitation account for the current year, with statements of assets and liabilities, and the budget for the ensuing season will be found in the appendix. The Regimental accounts are also attached for the information of the members and have been as usual audited by a professional accountant.

Some of this money will probably have to be spent shortly upon saddlery, which is the only outstanding due by the Corps. I have applied to Government for sufficient funds to enable me to complete the Sergenat Instructors' quarters at Lahore. This I consider urgently necessary, as not only is the present building very unsuitable for the purpose, but rents are rising every day in Lahore, and it is impossible for me to procure the necessary accommodation at any thing like the rates sanctioned by the Military Works Department.

The excess of expenditure over the amount allowed for Camp of Exercise is still heavy. I have before this called attention to the impossibility of meeting these expenses out of the usual Camp grant, and hope that in time to come some scheme may be devised by which the bonâ fide expenses of Camp of Exercise may be borne by Government.

Death.—The Corps sustained a serious loss in the sudden death of Troop Quarter-Master Sergeant O. T. Hemsley, a very popular and hardworking Non-commissioned officer. He was given a military funeral, which was largely attended by members of "A" Troop.

General.—I have alluded in the early part of this Report to some successes of the Regiment. Sergeant Major Wilson's winning score of 334 in the competition for the Newcomen Trophy out of an H. P. S. of 370 is specially deserving of notice. This Non-commissioned Officer has been with us from the very first, and has invariably been a credit both to his troop and the Regiment. He was selected by me to send Home to His Most Gracious Majesty's Coronation, and he has, both by his smartness as a Volunteer and his proficiency in military exercises, fully justified that selection. His success has been immensely popular in the Corps.

The winning of the Tent-pegging Tournament for a second time has also been a matter of much congratulation. This Tournament was started in 1898 by myself, and I have, not unnaturally, been anxious that my own Regiment should win it, but, though they have twice tied for first place, it was only last year that for the first time they obtained the long coveted distinction. This success was followed by their winning it again during the present Camp of Exercise. Captain Rivett, one of the winning team, also won the officers' Tent-pegging in the Ambala District Assult-at-arms, and Troop Sergeant Major Wilson, already alluded to, was one of this team also.

Sergeant Instructors.—With one exception, the Sergeant Instructors have performed their duties to my satisfaction during the year.

The usual details of drill, musketry, promotions, &c., will be found in the appendix to this report.

In conclusion, I have only to express the hope that you, Sir, may consider that the progress made during the year under report is satisfactory, and that, on this brief review of the history of the Corps during the past 13 years, it may be said to have in some measure fulfilled the promises made on its behalf, when I addressed to you, as Commissioner of Lahore in the year 1892, my first outline of a project then considered by many people more visionary than practical.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

ARTHUR GREY, LIEUT.-COLONEL,

Commanding Punjab Light Horse.

From Regimental Orders.

The Commandant is pleased to be able to congratulate the Regiment on winning both the Inter-Regimental Tent-pegging Tournament and the Newcomen Challenge Trophy. In regard to the latter Colonel Grey wishes to specially congratulate the actual winner, T.-S.-M. Wilson, on his remarkably fine score. The P. L. Horse have reason to be proud of this N. C. O., who, from the time he joined the regiment in 1894, has shown soldierly qualities of the highest order, and has never slackened in his efforts to uphold the credit of his corps. He was specially selected as the representative of the P. L. H. to attend the Coronation of his present Majesty and has both before and after fully justified that selection, as well by his efficiency as a N. C. O. as by his attachment to the corps. There is no man in the regiment whose success could have given greater pleasure to the Commandant, or, as he believes, to the officers and members generally.

The Commandant is directed by the G. O. Commanding Lahore District to convey to the Regiment his personal appreciation of their success in again winning the Volunteer Tent-pegging Tournament. General Kitchener heartily congratulates T.-S.-Major Wilson on his securing the Newcomen Challenge Trophy with a record score. The General considers that it is the spirit that wins these in peace time which cuts through all difficulties to successful results in war.

APPENDIX B.

PUNJAB LIGHT HORSE.

CAMP WEEK IN LAHORE.

(From a correspondent.)

OWING to the inclemency of the weather on Thursday, the 22nd February, the Volunteer week opened a day later than usual, namely on Friday the 23rd, by the Lahore troop marching into camp under command of Lieutenant Goyder. The troop, consisting of some 25 members, fell in at head-quarters at 4 P.M., and marched down to the Punjab Light Horse Camp on the Aitchison College grounds.

After arrival there the horses were watered, fed and made comfortable for the night, but scarcely had this been done when up came the black thunder clouds from the north-east, and the storm, which held up till the afternoon, burst in full force. The heavy rain which fell was preceded by a sharp fall of hail and in a short space of time the camping ground was reduced to a sea of mud and water ; but this did not damp the ardour of the men, for they soon set to and made themselves as comfortable in their tents as circumstances permitted, and the more energetic of them were soon hard at work with spades and shovels digging trenches round their tents. The horses, however, fared badly, for they had a damp bed to lie on the first night in camp. At 6-30 P.M. and soon after the rain had ceased, the usual guard of one non-commissioned officer and three troopers was mounted, and at 7-30 P.M. the bugle sounded the dinner call, when a move, through the wet and mud was made to the large mess tent, kindly lent for the occasion by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor.

On the following morning the real work of the Camp week commenced, and the men began to fall into the various duties with a good will. The daily duties were, reveille at 6-30 A.M., parade 7.15 A.M., breakfast at 9 A.M., tiffin 2 P.M., parade 4-30 P.M., guard mounting 6-30 P.M., and dinner 7-30 P.M. There were the usual troop parades under Troop officers in the morning and afternoon.

The Camp week festivities opened on Saturday night with a most successful open air concert at the camp, when, in spite of the intense cold and dampness of the grounds and atmosphere, a large number of visitors from Lahore and Mian Mir were present, the number of ladies being exceptionally large. Precisely at 9-15 P.M. the 40 maunds of wood piled up in one large stack were ignited, but owing to the dampness of either the air or the wood itself, it was not until after great deal of trouble and energy on the part of some of the men and the application of some 2 or 3 tins of oil that the stack ignited and the flames burst upwards into the sky. While this was being done there was a grand display of fireworks, and then followed the concert part of the programme in which songs were given by Sergeant Bevan, Troopers Tomlinson and Coleman, a recitation by Trooper Tristram, a piano solo by Mrs. Tristram, a violin solo by Mrs. Hedges and a banjo duet by Sergeant Bevan and Trooper Allen. Mrs. Tristram and Miss Bevan ably assisted at the piano. The night's entertainment was brought to a close at about 11-30 P.M. by an excellent exhibition of the sword exercises by some dozen dashing members of the Corps, when the visitors, amongst whom were Major-General Kitchener and others, bade goodnight to their genial hosts.

On Sunday morning the 25th, the Corps, which was further augmented by members of the outstation troops, fell in strong at Charing Cross at 10-30 A.M., and headed by the drums and fifes of the P. W. O. West Yorkshire Regiment at Mian Mir, kindly lent for the occasion by the Colonel and officers of the regiment, marched to the Cathedral to attend the annual parade service for volunteers. In the afternoon the non-commissioned officers entertained their friends to tea in the Camp and a large number of the fair sex assembled in the spacious shamiana, where tea and light refreshments were provided for the visitors. The varied and interesting programme of equestrian feats which had been arranged for could not be carried through, for scarcely had the programme opened when the rain came down again in torrents and prevented further sports being held. This, however, did not damp the ardour of either the visitors or men, for with the help of carriages, umbrellas and waterproofts, the guests were transhipped to the large mess tent where an impromptu concert, consisting of songs and recitations, was carried through. At about 6 P.M., the weather cleared up and the evening turned out fine which gave the visitors a chance to get home dry, although some of the less fortunate were caught in the rain on their drive out to camp.

The morning of Monday the 26th turned out very misty and damp and one could scarcely see more than a few yards ahead, but in spite of this the squadron was marched off to Mian Mir, under command of Colonel Arthur Grey and put through extended order practices. In the afternoon the men were put through Troop-drill under Troop-officers. On Tuesday the 27th the squadron was again marched off, under command of Lieutenant F. Rivett, to the Mian Mir parade ground and there put through the various outpost duties, and in the afternoon a sham fight took place some four or five miles from Camp which proved very interesting and instructive. In the evening the annual ladies' dinner was given in the Camp, when some 50 guests sat down, half at least of this number being ladies. Lieutenant-Colonel Arthur Grey presided, and the Police Band, under the baton of Sergeant Sant Bakhsh, played an enjoyable programme during the meal. After dinner, and the president's toast of "The King," Colonel Grey in a humorous and able speech proposed "The Ladies" and Mr. Goyder, the last joined Sub, responded. A musical programme was then carried out: with the aid of Mrs. Fullford, Trooper Tomlinson, Sergeant Bevan, Mrs. Hedges, Lieutenant Goyder, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Powell, Trooper W Bryan, Mrs. Tristram, Trooper Aller, Trooper Tristram, Trooper Coleman, Trooper Drysdale, Lieutenant F. Rivett, Captain and Adjutant A Cheyne.

The thanks of all are due to Mrs. Hathaway, Mrs. Tristram and Miss Bevan who played most of the accompaniments, to Mr. Pinto of the Agri-Horticultural Gardens for the handsome table decorations, and to Troop Sergeant-Major J. N. Davison for the general arrangements.

On Wednesday afternoon the trials for the tent-pegging competition took place and on Thursday the annual Regimental mounted sports came off on the race-course, at which a large number of visitors and friends of the corps from Lahore and Mian Mir were present, and very good sport was witnessed. "C Troop" were as usual to the fore this year, Trooper C. McCulloch, of that troop, carrying off no less than five first prizes out of the eleven events. He was also one of the four of the "C Troop Team" which carried off the 1st prize in the "Led Horse" race and the "Section tent-pegging" competition. To Lieutenant Percy Brown, the Sports Secretary, and to the members of the committee, who worked indefatigably, the success of the sports is due; the whole programme of twelve events being carried through without a single hitch. In the evening a smoking concert took place in the Mess Tent, but the more energetic of the young sparks of the corps proceeded to the Town Hall there to take part in the Cinderella given by the 1st P. V. R. Corps.

On Friday morning the squadron was exercised in squadron drill, and in the early afternoon the contest for the Inter-Regimental Tent-pegging Cup, open to all mounted Volunteer Corps in India, took place. The Punjab Light Horse, who won the Cup last year, considerably improved on their last year's score and in all probability the trophy (a large handsome silver challenge Cup) will again remain in the hands of the corps for another year (though under the conditions it can never become the property of any corps), but as all Corps competing have not run off for the event, the competition hangs in the balance at present. In the evening the Corps was again practised in a sham fight and after dinner the Colonel gave us a very instructive lecture on the various duties connected with outposts, advance guards and reconnaissance, which helped materially to the successful accomplishment of the duties entrusted to the Light Horse on the following morning in the great sham fight across the river Ravi.

On Saturday morning the 3rd, while it was yet dark, the reveille sounded and before long the men fell in and the squadron was marched off to the bridge of boats there to take part in the sham fight held under the directions of Major-General Kitchener, Commanding the Lahore Division, in the vicinity of Shahdara. The object aimed at was fully attained and the Volunteer Forces were considered to have gained the day. The scouting of the Punjab Light Horse and the working of the Armoured Train of the North-Western Railway Volunteers were of a very satisfactory nature, and the whole day's work was of a highly instructive and interesting kind. After a brief interval for breakfast General Kitchener addressed the officers and men of the Punjab Light Horse and graphically described the day's work pointing out defects where he noticed them and complimenting the men on their keenness, careful scouting and lucid reports, and on the way in which they had been handled by their officers.

The regiment was then marched off to quarters which were reached at 12-30 P.M. In the afternoon the "Guard mounting" competition took place, for which a Silver Cup was presented by that keen and zealous volunteer, Sergeant J. S. Evans of C. Troop. The competition was won, after a very narrow margin, by the team under Trooper Waugh of "B Troop," Ambala.

Saturday night was the Members' Guest night in Camp, and a goodly number of friends partook of the hospitality of the Light Horse. After dinner and the toast of "The King," Major Powell proposed the health of our Colonel, Lieutenant-Colonel Arthur Grey, which was responded to in a humorous and excellent speech. The toast of our Adjutant, Captain Cheyne, was proposed by Lieutenant Percy Brown and the reply was full of amusing remarks.

After the reply to the toast of the "Officers" Colonel Grey distributed the prizes won by the members at the Annual Rifle Meeting of the Corps.

The remaining speeches were interspersed with songs by Captain Cheyne, Corporal Kennelly, Troopers Tristram, Tomlinson, Coleman and others. The final speech and the passing round of the flowing bowl took place some time in the early hours of the morning.

On the morning of the 4th the competition for the Lloyd-Lindsay took place in which the various troops entered teams; the results of which are as follows :—

		Time
		Points.	deduction.	Total.
A. Troop	...	58	—2	=56.
B. Troop	...	65	—6	=59.
C. Troop	...	66	—0	=66.

This brought the week to a close, and thus ended our "Camp Week" for the year 1906. Our best and heartiest thanks are due to Captain Cheyne, our Adjutant, Lieutenant Percy Brown, Lieutenant and Quarter-Master Geo. Coates, Sergeant-Major H. Hives, Troop Sergeant-Major J. N. Davison and the members of the various committees for the way which they worked in their respective lines for the success of the Camp Week. They spared neither time nor trouble to make everything go with a swing, and were it not for these gentlemen the Camp would not have been the great success it was.

Competition for the Regimental Sword (presented by the Commandant) and the Troop Swordsmanship Badges.

1. The Sword is open to all members of the Corps; the Troop Competitions to Non-Commissioned Officers and men only.

2. Those only will be allowed to compete for the above prizes who obtain certificates from the Officers Commanding their respective troops, that they—

- (a) have been through a course of Equitation and can ride fairly well;
- (b) are proficient in the Sword Exercise, mounted and dismounted.

3. Non-Commissioned Officers and men in each troop who qualify as above will compete at heads and posts under troop arrangements in accordance with the annexed diagram. The ten men in each troop who obtain the highest marks will then compete mounted with single sticks.

4. The Competition is to be conducted in the presence of the Officer Commanding the troop (who may appoint a Committee to assist him in judging) under the rules and conditions prescribed below.

Officers Commanding Troops will be held responsible for the strict observance of these conditions. The winner of each Troop Competition will wear the prescribed badge for the best swordsman of the troop.

5. The winners of the troop prizes will contend during the Annual Camp of Exercise for the Regimental Sword. Officers will not take part in the Troop Competitions, but will be allowed to compete for the Sword on production of certificates for Equitation and Sword Exercise from the Officer Commanding, Adjutant or other Officer in charge of the Riding School.

6. The Final Competition for the Sword will be held before a Board to be composed of the Commanding Officer, the Adjutant, and, where available, an Officer of the Regular Service. No Troop Officer is to be a member of the Board if it can possibly be avoided. The same rules and conditions will be observed as for the Troop Competitions.

7. Officers Commanding Troops will arrange for this competition to be finished by the 15th February at latest, and returns should be made before the Annual Camp of Exercise Returns should show all men qualified to compete and detailed results of all practices.

8. Detached men who are unable, for sufficient reason, to compete with the troop to which they are attached may, at the discretion of the Commanding Officer, be allowed to compete for the Sword, provided that they qualify under section 2, and obtain at least 50 per cent. of marks for Head and Post Practice, at which they will compete under special arrangements at head-quarters.

9. Sergeant Instructors will not be eligible to compete in any Sword Competition.

Cuts may be made at lemons or turnips when procurable, 15 yards between each cut, point and jump.

Rules to be observed in all Sword Competitions.

1. The competitors are to draw lots as to who are to contend together, each couple forming up, one at each end of the Riding School or Manege, and, on the command being given, advancing to the attack at any pace they like.
2. When a point or hit is made they are to be stopped by the word "Steady" from the President, and to retire to their respective ends of the school.
3. There will be five separate rounds or attacks in each assault unless the same man wins the first three rounds, in which case no further attack is necessary.
4. Those who win the first assault will again draw lots and compete as before; the competition being continued till the combatants are reduced to a single pair.
5. The same man should not be allowed to be odd man more than once throughout, when this can be avoided.
6. With a view of encouraging men to defend themselves as well as to attack, in cases where a competitor successfully guards a cut or point, and then immediately delivers a successful cut or point, the cut or point so delivered shall count two. Other decided cuts and points to count equally as one.
7. Cuts and thrusts delivered otherwise than with the edge or point of the weapon do not count.*
8. If the opponents point or cut together, the attack is to continue until it is decided in favour of one or the other; or the Board may at any time order the competitors to their respective ends of the school to commence the attack afresh.
9. If a man be unhorsed he will lose the assault.
10. If his horse fall, the Board is to decide whether the fall occurred through bad riding or unavoidable accident. In the former case the man will lose the attack; in the latter case he will incur no penalty.
11. If a man drop his weapon and is able to recover it without assistance and wins the attack, he shall have a right to do so; but he is not allowed to fight on foot.
12. If a man strikes his opponent's horse, his opponent is to score the attack.
13. No cut or point is to count if delivered below the jacket.

*One side only of the stick to be chalked.

APPENDIX G.

The following District Orders by General W. Kitchener, C.B., Commanding Lahore District, are published for information and guidance and for protection from theft and general care and attention of arms and ammunition issued to Punjab Light Horse Volunteer Corps :—

1. The keys of all Armouries and of all Arm racks inside the Armouries will be kept by an officer or Sergeant Instructor.
2. Members will keep their arms in their own possession unless they obtain permission in writing from the Officer Commanding their Detachment (or Head-quarters) not to do so. In the latter case arms will be kept in the Armoury.
3. Arms kept in an Armoury must be in the responsible charge of an officer deputed by the Commanding Officer or of the Sergeant Instructor. In each Armoury a book will be kept in which will be shown where each rifle is, an entry (attested by the initials of the issuing Officer or Sergeant Instructor) being made every time a rifle is issued, and a corresponding entry made when it is returned. If the rifle is to be kept overnight, the receipt in writing of the member will be taken. On his returning the rifle he is responsible that he obtains a receipt or sees the receiving Officer or Sergeant Instructor's initials for the rifle in such book as may be kept for this purpose.
4. The Officer or Sergeant Instructor in responsible charge of the Armoury must constantly check the arms and ammunition with the Armoury book, and any discrepancy must be reported at once "Urgent" to the Adjutant, and to the Officer Commanding the station. A verbal statement that a member has kept his rifle will not be accepted; should one be made, its truth will at once be verified by the Officer or Sergeant Instructor in charge of the Armoury, and the written receipt mentioned in (2) obtained,
5. Arms and ammunition will be issued to members only. On no account will they ever be given to bearers, syces, &c., even on a written request.
6. Members are forbidden to give their arms to their private servants to carry to, or from, the range. Sergeant Instructors will at once report any infringement they see of this rule.

7. The Officer or Sergeant Instructor in charge of an Armoury is responsible for all arms so long as they remain in the Armoury ; or should he issue them to any person other than asked to in (5). When arms are issued to members, the member taking them out is responsible for them until they have been again returned.

Members not returning their arms to the Armoury daily are responsible for their good order and cleanliness. Arms kept in the Armoury will be cleaned and looked after under the orders of the Officer or Sergeant Instructor in charge of the Armoury.

8. All arms will be handed in to the Armoury at least once every three months for inspection by a properly qualified Officer or Sergeant Instructor.

9. Chaprasi will be entertained by Officer Commanding Detachments (or head-quarters) only. The greatest possible care will be taken in their selection.

10. Ammunition will be issued by an Officer or Sergeant Instructor only and should not exceed the amount that will probably be used. It will be issued to members at the Armoury or Magazine on their giving a written receipt for the amount they draw.

It may also be sent to the range by a recognised corps chaprasi.

Members drawing it direct are responsible that the correct number of cases are returned. Should there be any deficiency when returning ammunition issued to a chaprasi, the chaprasi will invariably be required to state how the deficiency occurred, and the Officer Commanding the Detachment (or Head-quarters) is responsible that the case is properly investigated without delay.

11. Should any member lose his rifle, bolt, or any ball ammunition, he will immediately report the matter to the nearest Officer or Sergeant Instructor.

By order,

ARTHUR GREY, LIEUT.-COL,
Commanding Punjab Light Horse.

8th January 1904.
